TIPS For HER!

Blindfold your guy and lead him to a spot in the house where you two haven't gotten it on before. This will definitely get him ready cause you're in complete control and nothing turns a man on faster than a take charge woman! OR...

Have your guy sit in a chair. Stand in front of him and slowly strip while giving him a lap dance, teasing him! OR...

Wear all black underwear and some boots and nothing else or you may choose to wear boots only. Whisper to him, "You're going to do whatever I say tonight!"

Do any or all of these things to change things up a little.

Trust me... He will do whatever you say that night!

Have FUN!!!

ADVICE For HIM!

Alright Fellas you all know that female arousal is very different from yours.

For you guys, arousal can hit like a freight train, it comes out of the blue or because you spotted a girl with a nice body. For women, though, a picture of a sexy, guy with no shirt usually isn't enough to jump-start the sex engine. Females sex drives are different in a unique way. Women have to be prompted first to want to have sex. This is also a good explanation as to why it's not enough to start kissing your girl on the neck and hope she gets in the mood.

I know your wondering what to do. Well here it is... You have to go Old School!

Seduce her all day long. Start in the morning. Tell her how sexy she is. Give her small kisses on her cheek, her lips, the back of her neck as she's getting ready, or when she's on her way out the door. Throughout the day, let her know you're thinking of her by sending her text messages and maybe a phone call. And at night, when you see her again, hug her, give her a deep kiss, and ask about her day. The more nurtured and adored she feels, the more likely she is to wanna get it on!

Try it... It works!

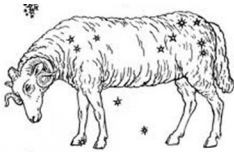

Have FUN!
